Toolbox Talk No. 85 WILDLIFE CONSERVATION

Some wildlife species that people may consider a pest under certain circumstances are protected by the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981. Creatures such as Bats, Badgers, Water Voles and Red Squirrels are all legally protected in the UK.

Common Vole Species

Voles, particularly water voles are often mistaken for young rats. Voles tend to have rounder noses, more chubby faces and shorter furry ears than rats; unlike rats their tails and paws are covered with hair. Water voles can sometimes be confused with rats. There are however, characteristics that clearly distinguish them from rats and house mice. Blunter, rounder noses, compact plump bodies, smaller hidden ears and shorter furry tails are all distinctive to the water vole - and unlike rats, their tails, paws and ears are fully covered in fur.

Common Bat Species

All Bats in the UK are protected under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981. There are approximately 17 species known to be breeding in the UK and a few you might be lucky to see are detailed below. The only mammals in the world capable of natural flight, bats live in colonies – typically in trees, buildings, eaves or rock crevices during the summer. These creatures require only a 13mm gap to gain access to harbourage. Bats feed on lacewings, small moths, mosquitoes and midges – they search for prey over water, woodland, marshes and even urban areas; emerging from their roost shortly after sunset to spend the night foraging for food. Bats do not cause damage to the buildings they roost in – apart from the mess their droppings cause. Bats are not aggressive, but may pose a threat by biting to defend themselves when provoked. It is important to note that in countries such as the UK bats and their roosts are protected by law and it is an offence to damage, destroy or block access to their harbourages.

Tool Box Talk No. 14 PERSONAL PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT (PPE)

Many accidents occur because people on site do not pay sufficient attention to their own health and safety. You can do a great deal to protect yourself simply by knowing what is available, wearing the correct clothing and using the protective equipment appropriate to your job.

Remember:

- Gone are the days when people who asked to be issued with protective clothing were thought to be wimps.
- Exposing your body to hazards at work without personal protective equipment is foolish.
- Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) should always be regarded as the last resort – it's the safe system of work that provides the primary defence.
- PPE is often the last line of defence between you and an accident.
- Use it carefully – it may save you from serious injury or even save your life.
- PPE is anything you wear at work to help guard against an accident.
- PPE won't prevent an accident in itself but it does provide an additional safety net.
- It may seem a waste of time to put on protective clothing to carry out a 10 minute job but remember it's not the length of time spent doing the job which creates the risk – it's the job itself.
- The law requires us to provide protective clothing and equipment where necessary and for you to wear it as required.
- If you are not sure how to use any item of PPE – ask your supervisor.
- If you feel any item of PPE is unsuitable or does not allow ease of working during use – tell your supervisor.
- Look after any personal protective equipment issued to you.
- If your PPE is damaged in any way it's your responsibility to tell your supervisor who will have it replaced.

Whilst employed or sub-contracting to Raphael Contracting wearing of the following PPE is mandatory:

- ✓ Hard Hat
- ✓ Hi-Viz
- ✓ Safety Boots
- ✓ Gloves
- ✓ Ear defenders - whilst using power tools or working adjacent to power tools when others are using them
- ✓ Safety glasses and masks must be worn when conditions warrant such protection or when the site rules specify they are mandatory
